

Call for Presenters

The Heart of America chapter of I2SL would like to invite you to help broaden the scope of innovation and adaptation right in our backyard, by presenting your new and exciting sustainable laboratory strategies and technologies at the 2017 I2SL Heart of America Education Day!

Who is invited to present?

Laboratory planners, designers, builders, facility managers, owners, manufacturers, and other industry leaders in our region.

When and where is it, and when do I have to submit by?

Education Day will be an all-day event at the KU Edwards BEST Conference Center on Thursday, November 9, 2017. Presentation submissions must be received by June 30 and notifications of selection will be sent out by July 14.

How do I submit a presentation for consideration?

Please submit an abstract of your presentation via email to heartofamerica@i2sl.org; as well as brief resumes for each presenter.

Are there suggestions, requirements or limitations on the presentations?

Yes, the presentation should be no more than 30 minutes in length (suggested to include 20 minutes for the presentation, and 10 minutes for Q&A). It must provide in depth knowledge on any topic related to laboratory and/or high tech facility sustainable design or operational practices. It must be free of any marketing material, and provide useful, tangible material that the audience can take away from the presentation (such as tools, resources, lessons learned). No more than two presenters are allowed for each presentation.

Special attention will be given to presentations that include the facility owner, and/or focus on new developments and technologies.

Are there any benefits to presenting?

Yes, in addition to networking opportunities, presenters will receive speaker ribbons on the name badges, and name, organization, and presentation title listed on the I2SL Heart of America website (as well as the presentation with the speakers permission). Speakers will be expected to register and pay registration fee of $50. Reimbursement for travel expenses is unfortunately not available for speakers.
